NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA, OAKLAND DIVISION

13 CALIFORNIA COALITION FOR WOMEN
14 PRISONERS; et. al.,

15 Plaintiffs

16 v.

17 UNITED STATES OF AMERICA FEDERAL
BUREAU OF PRISONS; et. al.,

18 Defendants.

CASE NO. 4:23-CV-04155-YGR

UNITED STATES’ RESPONSE TO MOTION TO UNSEAL COURT RECORDS

19 Defendants respectfully respond to the Motion to Unseal Court Records (dkt. 317) as follows:

20 The Appeal, Victoria Law, American Civil Liberties Union of Northern California, and the First 21 Amendment Coalition argue that “the closure of FCI Dublin has rendered Defendants’ safety and 22 security concerns moot.” (Dkt. 317 at 16–22.) For the most part, Defendants agree with this premise.
23 (See dkt. 326.) In light of changing factual conditions that have mooted time-sensitive security concerns
24 justifying the sealing of certain materials, Defendants agree to withdraw their request to keep certain
25 documents and portions of documents redacted, as detailed in the table below. But safety and security
26 were not the only reasons provided in support of sealing certain documents and portions of documents.
27 Defendants proposed, the Court has approved, limited redactions pursuant to both significant law
28 enforcement safety and security concerns and the Privacy Act, which are undoubtedly independent

1 compelling reasons justifying nondisclosure of the remaining documents. 5 U.S.C. § 552a(b); see
2 Kamakana v. City & Cty. of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1178 (9th Cir. 2006) and Center for Auto Safety
3 v. Chrysler Group LLC, 809 F.3d 1092, 1098 (9th Cir. 2016).

4 The Privacy Act prohibits an agency from “disclos[ing] any record which is contained in a
5 system of records by any means of communication to any person, or to another agency, except pursuant
6 to a written request by, or with the prior written consent of, the individual to whom the record pertains.”
7 5 U.S.C. § 552a(b). The United States does not have such written consent. Further, much of this
8 information would not be subject to a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request and is not available
9 to the public because it constitutes “records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes” that 10 could “interfere with law enforcement proceedings” and “could reasonably be expected to constitute an 11 unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.” 5 U.S.C. § 552a(b)(7). Intervenors’ motion does not even 12 mention the Privacy Act, let alone address this significant and compelling reason justifying limited
13 nondisclosure of certain documents and excerpts.

14 As outlined in the table below and the initial motions to seal, Defendants maintain their request
15 to keep documents redacted (i.e., sealed as to public disclosure), which continue to constitute private 16 and/or confidential criminal investigative material and which implicate compelling law enforcement
17 safety and security issues. See 5 U.S.C. § 552a(b)(7) and Shah v. Dep’t of Justice, 89 F. Supp. 3d 1074,
18 1080 (D. Nev. 2015) (discussing law enforcement privilege and citing, inter alia, In re Sealed Case, 856
19 F.2d 268, 271 (D.C. Cir. 1988)). Because these security concerns are supported by sworn, specific, and 20 cogent rationale proffered by high-ranking agency leadership, compelling reasons support Defendants’
21 request that the documents should remain under seal. See Declaration of William Lothrop, dkt. 236-2
22 (“Lothrop’s First Decl.”); Art Dulgov’s Declaration, dks. 161-3 (“Dulgov Decl.”).
